BROTHERHOOD UPDATE

The culture of FarmHouse fraternity at Auburn University is one of the things we find most important. Whether it is encouraging one another or just hanging out by the fire in the backyard, we have a strong brotherhood participate in. Over the course of this past semester, the brotherhood attended many different brotherhood events. We held a couple of tournaments including ping pong, pickleball, FIFA on the Xbox, the FH Golf Scramble, and our most coveted tournament, FBI. FBI is the FarmHouse Basketball Invitational where we have a draft of teams and play a 32 team tournament every semester. So many brothers enjoy the opportunity to not only get to play in the tournament, but also get to come watch the games around the house after dinner. With the help of the social chair, we were able to host a crawfish boil with a low country band River Dan playing on our stage during the final four of FBI. The first phrase of the object is to promote good fellowship and it is awesome to see our brothers doing just that everyday in conversations at meals, backyard fires, and on the front porch.

When I started my term as VP of Brotherhood, I saw a need for guys to get together in larger groups and create fellowship on Friday nights. Everyone wants a late night snack in college, so why not have some homemade pancakes made by brothers? In addition to creating new brotherhood events, we also brought back our spring camping trip. Our advisor, Lee Murphy, has some property on a pond and we got a big group of our brothers to cook hot dogs and s'mores over a fire, and some brothers went fishing the next morning. Over the course of last spring, we saw so many brothers enjoy many different brotherhood opportunities to keep the brotherhood culture strong and engaging.

SUMMER 2023

A LETTER FROM THE CHAPTER PRESIDENT

Brothers,

This past semester the Auburn chapter took further steps forward in our pursuits of excellence as a fraternity. We kicked off the semester by initiating 43 new members from the fall 22 pledge class. We had numerous brothers elected in leadership positions on campus such as SGA President, IFC President, Student Recruiter President, ODK President, and Executive Society President. We also have brothers involved in local philanthropy organizations as well as campus ministries and churches. We successfully raised $27,000 through our philanthropy event Cookout for a Cause which supports the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society along with getting 327 more swabs in our partnership with Be the Match. To conclude our semester, we hosted ERNEST in our annual Farmhouse Rodeo and finished the semester with a chapter GPA of 3.51 which was the highest among all organizations in IFC.

This summer we kicked off recruitment with a crawfish boil. Throughout June and July, we will be hosting events like casino nights, BBQs, and lake events in order to meet guys going through recruitment. Brothers who are not involved with rush have been working summer camps, studying abroad, serving on mission trips, and working internships. One brother, Will Grogan, is hiking from village to village through the mountains in Honduras providing medical assistance to those in need. Another brother, Lake Minor, is spending his summer spreading the gospel to people in Tanzania. This summer has been full of incredible experiences, but we are all excited to be back together in August. It has been a pleasure serving this semester and I am looking forward to a successful fall.

Fraternally,

Jeremiah Sachs, President
